This initiative features a comprehensive Charter and Program designed to enhance the effectiveness of the Youth Parliament. The assembly comprises 84 members, selected from regional youth representatives, as well as additional delegates from the Youth Union and the Senate Committee on Youth, Culture, and Sports. STRIVING AGAINST CORRUPTION WITH THE "PARTNERSHIP CONTROL" DEPARTMENT

In our pursuit of academic excellence and integrity, our university is fully committed to fostering an environment that is unequivocally free from corruption. This commitment begins with transparent governance. We implement strict codes of conduct for faculty, staff, and students, promoting ethical behavior and discouraging any form of misconduct. Regular workshops and training sessions are conducted to raise awareness about the negative impacts of corruption, empowering our community to uphold the highest ethical standards.

Additionally, we encourage active participation from students and faculty in monitoring and reporting unethical practices. Establishing an anonymous reporting system allows individuals to voice concerns without fear of retaliation. By promoting a culture of integrity and accountability, we not only enhance the educational experience but also prepare our students to be responsible citizens. Together, we are building a university that exemplifies the values of honesty and transparency, ensuring a brighter future for all.

“We are dedicated to creating a university environment that is absolutely free from corruption.”
