

Sulton
Ermamatovich
Normamatov

---

Vice-Rector for Academic Affairs at Tashkent State University of Uzbek
Language and Literature,
Doctor of Philology, Professor

---

Sulton Normamatov is a Doctor of Philology and Professor currently serving as the Vice-Rector for Academic Affairs at Tashkent State University of Uzbek Language and Literature. In this role, he oversees the university's academic programs, ensuring that they align with national educational standards and meet the evolving needs of students. He is responsible for developing and implementing academic policies, facilitating curriculum development, and enhancing the quality of education offered. Additionally, he collaborates with faculty to promote research initiatives and innovative teaching methods that foster a dynamic learning environment.

---

He also plays a crucial role in assessing academic performance, monitoring student progress, and supporting faculty development through workshops and training sessions. Before his current position, Dr. Normamatov held various significant roles, including Department Head and Dean, where he focused on enhancing the academic structure and ensuring efficient departmental operations. His previous experience as Vice-Rector for Spiritual and Educational Affairs at Gulistan State University equipped him with valuable insights into the integration of educational and spiritual development, promoting a holistic approach to student growth.

---

---

In addition to his administrative responsibilities, he continues to contribute to the field of linguistics, with extensive research on Uzbek linguistic history and the impact of Jadid intellectuals on Uzbek lexicography. His notable publications, including "The Lexicon of Abdulla Avloniy's Poetry" and "The Lexicographic Activity of Jadid Writers," reflect his commitment to advancing the understanding of Uzbek language and literature

---